Leon D. Wescoat, III

Noyes Gallery at Seaview Resort

Leon D. Wescoat, III was born into a tugboat and marine construction family during very simple times in Atlantic City. His family lived and worked on the water so it was without question that he would be in touch with a nautical perspective.

Leon Wescoat III, Sunset on Absecon Creek, oil on canvas, 24" X 48", $2,250

Leon has been painting for a little more than thirty years with no formal training. He has been able to improve and hone his skills through his practice. He paints from both memory and photographs, taking inspiration from his adventures and everyday life. He recently started painting Plein Air to improve technique and push his craft further. Leon lives with his family in Absecon. Although A.C. Wescoat, a marine construction company has been dissolved, he continues to work in heavy marine construction. Leon's evenings are spent in his at home studio relaxing with his canvas and brushes.

As a member of many local organizations, Leon is able to continue to spread his love, knowledge and respect of Mother Nature in all of her glorious forms. His paintings have been exhibited locally, in various galleries up and down the east coast, Nashville, Oregon, and countless private collections. His works are currently included in 8 permanent collections. In 2001, Leon was juried as an official artist of the United States Coast Guard.
